Project

Weather App

Oct 2024 – Nov 2024

Role : Full Stack developer

- Developed a dynamic weather application using Spring Boot for the backend and JSP for the frontend. Integrated the OpenWeather API to fetch real-time weather data for any location. Designed an intuitive user interface with CSS and JavaScript, ensuring responsiveness and user-friendly navigation. Implemented robust backend services for efficient API communication and data handling. The application allows users to search for current weather conditions, forecasts, and other relevant meteorological information.

Food App

Apr 2024 – Aug 2024

Role : Full-stack Developer

- As a full-stack developer, I designed and implemented core application features, including user authentication, menu browsing, and order management, using Spring MVC, Hibernate, and Spring Data JPA with MySQL. Developed RESTful APIs to ensure efficient front-end and back-end communication. Built responsive user interfaces with HTML and CSS, optimizing for cross-device compatibility. Enhanced administrative capabilities by adding functionalities such as menu management, order history tracking, and a Contact Us module for user inquiries. Led the full development lifecycle focusing on database integration, user validation, and order processing, delivering a scalable and user-friendly application.
